This stylish hotel specializes in original art throughout. The door to each bedroom is obscured by a black and white photograph, so strolling down a corridor feels like being in a gallery. (The smoking floor has photos of rock musicians, and is definitely the rowdiest.) The Max attracts a hip crowd, but the easy welcome and low-key service means that everyone feels at home. Comfy beds to die for, a (free) 24-hour business center, millions of movies on the plasma in-room screens – if you stay here you might never see the rest of Seattle. $$$

BELOW: Hotel Max has original artwork throughout.
